The Law Offers You a Choice
All licensed family child care homes are required either to:
1) Carry liability insurance
2) Carry a bond
3) Have all parents sign an affidavit

The Options
A family child care home operator may choose one of the following options:

- Option 1: Liability insurance that covers $100,000 per incident/occurrence, and a minimum of $300,000 annually or;
- Option 2: A bond that covers a minimum of $300,000 or;
- Option 3: Signed affidavits (declarations) from all parents in your program stating that they are aware that you do not choose to have insurance. Sample affidavit forms are available from the Department of Social Services (LIC 282). However, because parents cannot waive the rights of their children, the affidavit merely informs parents that you carry no insurance, and ultimately, parents can still hold you liable and sue you for damages.

Insurance
Your homeowner’s or renter’s insurance will not cover your business venture unless you purchase additional coverage for your child care program. Plans are available specifically for family child care programs that cover a variety of items, such as:

- Fire/Theft & Damage: Insurance protects your property.
- Liability Insurance: Protects you and your family should an accident occur and covers medical and legal costs.

Contact your insurance provider for complete information.

Definitions
- General Liability Insurance: Covers accidental injuries where the provider is found negligent. Comprehensive general liability insurance includes bodily injury, damage to property, medical emergencies and legal costs.
- Personal Liability: Covers issues pertaining to custody, child abuse, slander, or invasion of privacy.
- Fire Legal Liability: Covers fire damage to your home and grounds.
- Property Insurance: Covers damage to your home and may offer cash value replacement.

Insurance rates vary. It is best to check with several insurance companies and learn their conditions and exclusions.

Liability Insurance for Family Child Care Homes and Centers
Child care is a business enterprise and providers and centers are responsible for the supervision of children in care at all times and for the appropriate handling of any emergency. Liability insurance is a standard business consideration. Homeowner or renter insurance on the provider’s home does not cover the family child care business. In addition, if the provider rents his/her home, it is important that the property owner also be listed on the family child care business liability policy.
